

ARMSTRONG ADVISORY GROUP

PRIVACY POLICY

Effective: April 1, 2023

Our Commitment to You

Armstrong Advisory Group Inc. (“AAG” or the “Advisor”) is committed to safeguarding the use of personal information of our Clients (also referred to as “you” and “your”) that we obtain as your Investment Advisor, as described here in our Privacy Policy (“Policy”).

Our relationship with you is our most important asset. We understand that you have entrusted us with your private information, and we do everything that we can to maintain that trust. AAG (also referred to as “we”, “our” and “us”) protects the security and confidentiality of the personal information we have and implements controls to ensure that such information is used for proper business purposes in connection with the management or servicing of our relationship with you.

AAG does not sell your non-public personal information to anyone. Nor do we provide such information to others except for discreet and reasonable business purposes in connection with the servicing and management of our relationship with you, as discussed below.

Details of our approach to privacy and how your personal non-public information is collected and used are set forth in this Policy.

Why you need to know?

Registered Investment Advisors (“RIAs”) must share some of your personal information in the course of servicing your account. Federal and State laws may give you the right to limit some of this sharing and require RIAs to disclose how we collect, share, and protect your personal information.

FACTS

What does Armstrong Advisory Group, Inc. do with your personal information?

WHY?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Other important information

This privacy notice has been prepared in accordance with federal law consistent with the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA). You may have other privacy protections under state laws. To the extent these state laws apply, we will comply with them with regard to our information disclosure practices.

Since the enactment of GLBA, there has been considerable activity in state legislatures on financial privacy issues. Some states have laws that are even more protective of consumer privacy than under GLBA. For example, certain states have adopted a requirement for you to approve the sharing of information in advance, otherwise known as an "opt-in" choice. If you live in an "opt-in" state (e.g., California, Massachusetts, Maine, Alaska, North Dakota or Vermont), then we will require your consent to share your information with unaffiliated third parties who are not servicing your account. State requirements vary and may change without notice.

Please note that, in order to comply with applicable laws and legal requirements, we may disclose information to government entities, self-regulatory organizations, or other third parties in response to court orders, subpoenas, government inquiries, or other mandatory legal processes.

State-Specific Regulations – Massachusetts Opt - In

In response to Massachusetts law, the Client must "opt-in" to share non-public personal information with non-affiliated third parties before any personal information is disclosed. Client opt-in is obtained through the Client's execution of authorization forms provided by the third parties, by executing an Information Sharing Authorization Form, or by other written consent by the Client, as appropriate and consistent with applicable laws and regulations.

Changes to our Privacy Policy

We will send you a copy of this Policy annually for as long as you maintain an ongoing relationship with us.
